PITTSBURGH, PA (02.22.2010) – Lidia's Italy, Pittsburgh opened in the Strip District in March of 2001, only four years after Lidia Bastianich and her son Joseph Bastianich opened the popular Lidia's Kansas City, their first restaurant venture outside of Manhattan.

Please Join Lidia Bastianich as she hosts a four-course dinner specially crafted for Lidia's Pittsburgh 9 year anniversary. Reservations are required. Lidia's is located at 1400 Smallman Street in the heart of the Strip District.

Lidia's Pittsburgh provides authentic Northern Italian cuisine, from the chef, author, and restaurateur Lidia Bastianich. Acclaimed New York architect David Rockwell designed the space, and the menu concept is a combination of the New York restaurants, Felidia and Becco. The daily tasting of three pastas, is a Pittsburgh favorite in addition to hearty and traditional Italian main courses. Valet parking is available for dinner service.
